STATUTES OF THE MAC

(The parts of the statute which are new or have amendments since the last congress will be highlighted in red)

The Statutes determine the aims and character of the Marxist Anti-Imperialist Collective and the principles and rules on which it is structured, operates and acts. They define the rights, obligations, primary duties and rules of activity for the organization's members, sub-organizations and sub-groups and organs. To defend these principles in a conscious and resolute way and to observe and apply them strictly constitutes the paramount duty of every organization member. This duty is identified with the defence of our organization's very existence and of the main conditions which is to conduct pro-communist, anti-imperialist propaganda on an international basis, with the aim of drawing in our work and influence the proletariat and the best elements of the intelligentsia to our cause.

PRINCIPLES

A)The MAC is a propaganda organization fighting for the interests of the proletariat. It is a revolutionary organisation of like-minded volunteers which aim is the propaganda of Communist and anti-imperialist ideology, of theoretical application of scientific socialism to today's problems and issues.

The strategic goals of the the MAC to expand its influence, its platforms, its organs and secondly help create or expand existing organizations out of the MAC, even if lightly. The above goals may take some time, but it is the strategic goals for our organization, especially in post- socialist nations where communist organization, parties, and propaganda organs and platforms hardly exist.

The proletariat, the vehicle of socialist change, fighting in the front ranks of the struggle to break the nation from the chains of imperialism, is striving not only for its own liberation, but for the liberation of all working people. For these reasons, it is a historical necessity for anti-imperialist organizations to grow stronger in imperialized nations, and as imperialism is losing and the labour aristocracy diminishes, of the then former imperialist nations too. In order to win the struggle against imperialism, a revolutionary Party capable of guiding the struggle of the proletariat for its vital interests and the construction of a new higher society, the communist one, is necessary.

B) In its organization, functioning and activity to realise these aims, the Marxist Anti-Imperialist Collective is guided by the worldview of Marxism-Leninism, proletarian internationalism and anti-imperialism. In its current form, the organization is inspired by the first attempt in history at creating a multi-national communist propaganda and ideological organization with the higher aims of creating a multinational organization of National communist organizations / parties, the Communist Correspondence Committee (German: Kommunistisches Korrespondenz-Komitee). Our ideological inspirations are the communist revolutions and governments of the past, the ones of the Paris Commune (1871), the USSR, African, Asian, Latin American revolutions like Angola, Mongolia or the European Workers States like Albania, Romania, East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria e.t.c, but is not limited to that; our organization also observes and studies the developments of the remaining communist governments and worker states, like the one of China, Cuba, Vietnam, People's Democratic Republic of Korea (DPRK) e.t.c. Our Observation and inspiration is not only limited to explicitly communist movements, parties and governments, but also on non-explicit communist, marxist, or even non marxist/communist explicit proletariat movements. We also admire and study the bourgeoisie anti-imperialist revolutions, like the one of the KMT led against the imperialists in the past, its theorist, Sun-Yat Sen, the June revolutionaries of Albania, the struggle of the Libyan Arab Jamarihiya, and countless other historical examples. We arent focused just on the past, we also observe the current anti-imperialist movements, the struggle of the Belarusian people against imperialism lead by president Alexander Lukashenka, the struggle of the Mestizo and Arab nationalists against imperialism (Baath, Bolivarianism), the Russian national bourgeoisie struggle against EU-NATO hegemony and countless other past and modern examples.

The MAC, based on its worldview and with the aim of developing it, studies the socio-economic and political developments of the realities in the national space of each country. On this basis, the basis of international and national reality and situation, it determines its strategy, tactics, lines.

C) The organisational structure and operation of the MAC are determined by its aims and its revolutionary character. Its fundamental principle is democratic centralism.

The consistent application of democratic centralism, in all its aspects, is necessary for the ideological, political and organizational unity of the organization, a necessary condition for it to achieve its goals.

D) The MAC is founded on the principle of proletarian internationalism and anti-imperialism. It bases its internationalism on the common interests of the proletariat, and on the common necessity and goal from liberating the nations from the chains of imperialism. The MAC understands that since imperialism divided the world's nations in two parts, the imperialist, benefiting from the plunder, and the imperialized, suffering from this plunder, it is impossible to form on the current conditions a global all-proletariat front for the overthrow of Capital. Thus, the mission of the members in imperialized nations is to push and formulate lines, to push back imperialism by all means possible, and for its members on imperialist nations to do everything they can to spread such lines at the best elements of the working class and intelligentsia in their country who see far ahead the death of imperialism, and thus, their future 'proletarianization', and therefore organize on this basis to fight the imperialist system in their countries, both as a practical exercise of internationalism to their brethren who suffer by their own nation's plunder, and as a communist vanguard of their own nation, which sees far ahead that the only way for progress is the death of imperialism and capitalism, even if it means a temporary 'worsening' of conditions for their native working class by the loss of imperialist plunder. In more concrete terms, the strategic goals of the revolutionaries of the imperialized nations need to organize all anti-imperialist forces and classes in their nations, even the national anti-imperialist bourgeoisie if it exists, struggle to put the proletariat as head of this struggle, break the nation from the chains of imperialism and compradorship in a proletariat revolution. In this struggle, the revolutionaries will be allied to the best elements of the imperialist nations, who in their own turn will seek to organize their native proletariat which keeps falling back from the labour aristocratic status due to the victories of the anti-imperialist forces in the imperialized nations.

The MAC identifies fascism as nothing more than the various ideological manifestations of the imperialist forces in different stages of their development. Therefore, imperialism is nothing more than the base of fascism, and fascism nothing more than the superstructure of imperialism. The MAC will do everything to expose the essence of fascism whenever they see it, to fight them by all means, since they understand the unbreakable relation between fascism and imperialism. The MAC understands that real nationalism is nothing more than the desire to push the cosmopolitan by nature class of bourgeoisie out of power, to destroy capitalism and to build communism, and to save the nation from the chains of imperialism. A real nationalist understands that real internationalism, proletarian internationalism, can really become reality and not a snare only if we speak about independent nations. The basis of internationalism are independent nations.

THE STRUCTURE AND THE SUBGROUPS

(things removed regarding mods)

The MAC internal organization is structured on a pyramid format, consisted of multiple sub groups: Politburo at the top, coordinators bellow the politburo, two poles, Working group and Operational pole who set on equal footing, bellow WG and OP are the transitional members and absents. All of the above are part of the organization. The current Organs of the MAC are the following subreddits: r/EuropeanSocialists, r/AsianSocialists, r/AmericasSocialists, the site and various social media profiles. All members of MAC need to follow the lines and rules of the said subreddits when writing there.

STATUTE OF THE MAC

The MAC passes the slogans, administrates, ideologically leads and presents its lines and writings through the organs. The MAC is in essence the administrative and leading body of the organs. The MAC internally is structured in a pyramid format, which has the following structuration: Politburo at the top, below the Politburo the coordinators, and below the coordinators the two respective subgroups, operational pole and writing group. Below these subgroups there is a large subgroup, consisted of transitional members (new members) and absents.

The MAC works on the basis of democratic centralism: Its principle is internal debate, unity in action. The MAC holds a general meeting twice per month (every two weeks), exception being a decision to postpone it or not hold it for said time period, or if the PB calls to hold more than two for a specific issue, upon review and decision of the PB, and a general congress once per 6 months. The way of entrance in the MAC of new members needs the approval of the Politburo. New members are required to present their full name to the PB (and the PB can't tell their name to anyone else), nationality, occupation. The PB or the MAC has no right to disclose the real name of their comrades in open, doing so will be subjected to expulsion from the organization. The newer members of the MAC need to present a nickname for the public declarations and works. The leading group of the MAC is the Politburo.

~~REGARDING THE MODS OF THE SUBS~~

STATUTE OF THE POLITBURO

The politburo is the leading group of the MAC. The obligations of the politburo are the day to day decisions for all organs, enforcing the rules within the MAC, provide the lines, decide and plan on alliances and contacts with other groups, sites, parties, decide the announcements, recruitments, general votings, keep in mind the demands of the rest of the MAC by the contacts with the coordinators (who will spread the demands of their teams to the politburo), organize the general meetings and congresses, enforce discipline in the MAC and the mods/representatives, organize/plan general plans and campaigns far ahead e.t.c.

This of course does not mean that the PB is the only group which makes lines and the line. By the link with the coordinators, the coordinators will give to the politburo any demand, proposal e.t.c made by their groups for the PB to consider.

The representatives/mods too can make proposal to the PB for lines to be adopted. The PB is voted by the whole MAC during the general congress. The PB applies roles to its members itself if there is need to, independently from the rest of the MAC for the sake of efficiency and to limit bureaucracy.

The PB needs to present to each general meeting a report of its activities to the MAC. The PB minimum membership is 3 people and there needs to always be an odd number.

The maximum members of the politburo should not exceed 25% of the MAC members, with no specific maximum number of members in general (for example 11 or 13). This for example means the following: If the MAC members are 20, the PB members should not exceed 5 members. The PB decides when to open positions for it, but the MAC members may pressure it to open positions. Nonetheless, it is the PB which has the final word.

STATUTE OF THE COORDINATORS

The coordinator is the link between the politburo and the groups. The coordinator has the obligation to coordinate, administrate, make the plans for their respective groups. The main domain of the PB is internal matters and organs of the MAC. They have the final say in other domains but their main domain is the internal. One of the biggest obligations of the coordinators is to write a detailed report, to make a report and keep editing it daily on the new developments, assignments, activity of their group. By the end of month and by the general meeting, the Coordinator presents the report to the PB, the irregularities e.t.c, and also formulates the percentage of activity for their group's members for this month by points. The coordinators have the right to attend politburo meetings, call on meeting the politburo, but has no voting power. The Coordinator also presents the demands, proposals, e.t.c of their team to the meeting with the PB, so the PB can weight and consider the needs, demands, complains of the MAC e.t.c In case of PB considering expulsion of MAC members, the Coordinator of the specific member has the right to attend the meeting and present the case in opinion of their member. On general cases (inactivity, internal issues of the group e.t.c) the PB has no right to consider for expulsion anyone without contacting the coordinator first. Nonetheless, the final decision lies on the PB. The Coordinator is appointed by their respective groups during the general congress. The coordinators need to organize their group's meetings, and coordinate activity between themselves (the OP coordinator organizing work with the WG coordinator).

STATUTE OF THE OPERATIONAL POLE

The operational pole is the team whose purpose is to help in the administration and the moderation of our current organs. The main domain of the OP is the external organs of the MAC, i.e moderating the subreddits. The final say regardless falls to PB if the issue arises. The members of the operational pole are on equal footing with the WG members, but they are administrated and commanded by their coordinator.

The obligations of the operational pole are the following:

1) To attend the general meetings once per month, their specific meetings if held, complete assignments, crosspostings, e.t.c.

2) To report daily when they will be for whatever time. For a point to be counted regarding activity, less than two hours per day can be combined with other day's time and form a point, but more than 2 hours it does not mean more than one point. Example: OP member A comes in 17:00 and reports that they are available for crosspostings, moderation of the organ e.t.c. If they report that in 18:00 UTC they are unavailable, they would have done one hour of activity. If they do a hour the next day too, it is a combined two hours, thus one point. If the next day they stay active for 10 hours, one point of activity could be counted, since more than 2 hours within a day is not counted as more points. In this time they also need to check the new posts of the platform and comments to see if they will be breaking any rules. The OP also needs to see the situation of a thread, and stick a comment with either the description of our line, or works made by the MAC speaking about the specific issue. The OP needs to report in detail the actions they have undertaken, moderation, removal of comments, bans, warnings, crosspostings.

The activity for the OP is counted with the 20% being the minimum to be called active, and with every crossposting, presentation in meetings, daily availability, and assignments counting for one point. Thus, if we suppose that the assignments for a month for the OP to be just the daily attendance of two hours, the members needs to have done at least 6 points to be called an active month. If the points 5 or less then the month is called inactive.

A special channel will be made (in the future we may need a spreadsheet) where the OP members will make their reports daily for attendance and crosspostings or bans e.t.c, for the coordinator to gather daily.

Activity for the OP is counted by hourly reporting (2 hours combined = one point), crosspostings (one crossposting = 1 point), and be present in meetings (one meeting = one point).

STATUTE FOR WORKING GROUP

The working group is the team whose purpose is to create content for our organ, to spread our message and to spread the news from our countries and theoretical works and articulations to our readers. The members of the working group are on equal footing with the OP members, but they are administrated and commanded by their coordinator.

The obligations of the Working group are the following: To attend the general meetings once per month, their specific meetings held once per week, complete assignments, and to write 10 articles per month (they can write more if they want).

The Working group is administrated by the Coordinator. The activity for the working group is counted with the 20% being the minimum to be called active, and with every article, presentation in meetings, and assignments counting for one point. Thus, if we suppose to have a combination of 5 meetings per month, and 10 articles, and 5 assignments, we speak about 20 points. The members needs to have done at least 5 points (be it in the form of attending all meetings, or writing 5 articles) to be called an active month. If the points are less than 5 then the month is called inactive.

WG members should report to their WG chat if they are to post something, or at least report it briefly after they post it.

Regarding written work by both the WG, PB, or OP members, they are obliged to include the seal or symbol of the MAC somewhere in the work, and also include the following disclaimer somewhere in the work:
If a MAC line is expressed, then it will be clarified. If not, the reader should consider the work expressing the views of the writer.

STATUTE OF NEW MEMBERS

The new members of the MAC have one month from the point they enter the MAC as a 'trial' before they join any group. After this month they need to decide which group to join. They are full MAC members, but they can't vote in their first general meeting. Thus, they can start having voting power only after they attend one general meeting. The politburo can artificially block entrance to one specific group if the group's number are too unproportional, or if there is necessity (or lack of it) in either of the poles.

New members will be proposed and discussed and decided whether to be accepted in the general meeting held twice per month. The MAC will vote on potential MAC members as a whole.

CONCEPT OF INACTIVITY

What counts as inactivity: Doing less than 1/5 or 20% of the work assigned. Furthermore, the MAC recognizes two kinds of inactivity: justified and unjustified inactivity.

1) Justified inactivity: The member has contacted us and we know they are alive and well, and they have stated a reason why they need to be inactive

2) Unjustified inactivity: We don't know where the members is, they have not contacted

Time span of inactivity: The member can be inactive in the span of a year for 4 months, justified or unjustified. By this, we mean 120 days, which can be split in the span of the whole year.

The measurement of inactivity for the different groups is counted on a different basis. This is because the Working group does not work daily directly, while the OP has daily direct assignments. Time span for inactivity per kind of inactivity: Justified: No change (4 months/120 days in total) Unjustified: 1 month/30 days continued without sign of life.

The ones who enforce the expulsion and removal from the MAC due to grounds of Inactivity is the politburo. The politburo has the right to review the case the on its judgement allow for more time for unjustified or justified inactivity. This should be limited to a few days, and 1 month at maximum. The politburo needs to present its case and report this in the general meeting to the whole MAC.

Removed members due to inactivity can readmitted upon contact and upon approval from the Politburo. The politburo reviews the case and it falls in its judgement to readmitte any potential member who was removed for inactivity but wants to return. The politburo presents its case and argument for its decisions on the general meeting to the whole MAC.

The coordinator of the MAC member in question can be present in the meeting or removal and give their opinions to the PB.

Time span of activity counting on the groups is the following: PB needs at least 67% of the days per month of activity for the month to be called active. Less than 67% of the days counts as an inactive month.

Important to note, is how inactivity counting works. It works by points. The coordinator gathers the mandatory points (articles, attendance to meetings, daily availability, crosspostings e.t.c), and the assignments if any. If we suppose the following scenario, where there are no assignments out of the ordinary, just the mandatory work.

Working group members have a sum of 15 points per month (5 meetings, 10 articles) to fulfil (if there are no special requests by PB). They need 3 points in this regard (example, 2 articles one meeting, or 3 articles e.t.c).

Operational pole members have the sum of 35 points (5 meetings, 30 days of activity)(if there are no special requests by PB). They need therefore to have at least 7 points to be called active.

PB and OP will be counted regarding their activity in UTC time in the reports. For example, if a X PB member reports active in 01:00 EEST time 10 January (in their country) this will be reported for 22:00 UTC time for 9 January. Same for OP.

RULES OF DEBATE (new part entirely)

As per the statute, the PB is the one which enacts these rules and regulations

1) No direct insults which have no basis. This is to avoid fragmentations in the organization. If a debater thinks that they have been indirectly insulted, they must consult to the PB, which will decide if there has indeed be an insult.

A reminder must be, that irony and the like is not an insult. One cannot part ways with this in a political organization. But if a work is devoid of essence of arguments it is pure irony, then an argument could be made of an insult.

2) The debaters must be direct and not beat around the bush. Beating around the bush just pushes the issue for tomorrow, since inevitable the other debater will ask what exactly the other means and therefore a more time will be spent in a useless manner. A debater may ask the

PB to review the document if they view the other debater that they are beating around the bush and not being direct, resulting in a waste of time. The PB can determine if the debater indeed beats around the bush and ask them to be direct or cease their argument.

3) The documents must not be repetitive on purpose, so the other MAC members are reluctant to read it due to it. If a member suspects this is the case, they can bring their argument to the PB and it will then decide the verdict. Since we have rules, we have punishments. The punishment is up to the PB, and it should be said that it must be reviewed case by case. At first, warnings, then perhaps punishments of the like of removing comments and muting them for some time. If the member is not showing signs of improving, a complete expulsion from the organization may be considered.

4) A MAC member may ask the PB to make sure that everyone or most of the organization read the document by PB personally sending it to the members due to the importance of the document. The PB has the right to review the demand and decide if it is important enough as to personally invoke all members to read it.

LINES AND ANNOUNCEMENTS (new part entirely)

The lines are official declarations on various issues from MAC. MAC members are enforced to follow the line in public. If a MAC member is suspected that they do not follow the line in public, they can be brought in "trial" from the leadership and be charged with a penalty ranging from reprimanding, temporary suspension, or outright removal. The leadership has the responsibility to properly explain in what way a X member broke the line. The line can always be removed, amended, e.t.c upon the process of its original adoption. The adoption of a line has the following steps: formulation -> debate (if any) and amendment (if any) -> general vote -> adoption.

The #documents must be used, and if asked by even one MAC member, further explanation by the the person/persons who proposed the formulation of the line, or its amendment or removal.

The announcements are a lever down from the lines, since they do not require a general MAC vote, but the approval of the PB. Of course, while done in behalf of the MAC, they dont bind in the same way the entirety of MAC in public, for this reason. A MAC member has the right to express themselves contrary to the announcement with coherent argumentation and respecting internal secrecy (i.e to not reveil much information regarding the internals of the MAC in public while expressing their disagreement) in public, and if they wish "break" the announcement by proposing an adoption of a line contrary to the announcement. In short, if we could put them on a pyramid, a line always is above the contents of the announcement.

An announcement cannot break an existing line.

MOTION OF NO CONFIDENCE (new part entirely)

One of the primary rights of the members to check the leadership if they suspect the leadership is working against the interests of the organization or it is corrupt. In case the congress (and thus, the elections) may be late, the members have the right to call for this vote if they have at least three signatories from the MAC. The vote can take place no shorter from two months since the last vote of no confidence, since members could abuse this right for X or Y reason. The PB keeps the right to dissolve the leadership and announce new elections if for some reason they feel that even if they keep majority in the votes, the minority against them is large enough and needs to be addressed. A vote of no confidence cannot be given individually for PB members, but collectively for the entirety of PB. A vote for no confidence is given individually only to the Coordinators. If there is no replacement for the leaders if the vote passes, they return to their original position. In short, members proposing this vote need to be ready to take the seat in case their vote passes.

ORGANS

A)The current organ of the MAC are the r/EuropeanSocialists, r/AmericasSocialists, r/AsianSocialists subreddits, the sites, and the different social media accounts. By the use of this organs the MAC spreads its message and propaganda to its readers. The subreddits are administrated by the PB and the OP.

It is not their obligation, but all MAC members in general have the right to moderate the subs, regardless of if they are in OP, WP, or some other role that we will create in the future. This include transitional (new) members. Non the less, the final word lies to the PB, and then the OP. All need to follow OP's commands, and OP follows PB.

B)For our communication, the main organ is discord. The MAC discord is administrated by the politburo. The MAC discord is divided in the following channels: A general chat, viewed by both the MAC and the new, transitional members, and various others commissions and channels for the groups.

Rights of access to channels by the MAC:

- 1) Politburo: PB channel, non-role specific channels, Activity channel, OP-WG channel.
- 2) Coordinators: Their respective channels, non-role specific channels, Activity channel, PB channel.
- 3) Groups members: Their respective channels, non-role specific channels, Activity channel, sub-group channels.

4) New members: Only non-role specific channels The channels of the discord are the following:

- 1)announcements
- 2)General chat
- 3)Content creation pole
- 4)Operational pole
- 5)Reunion chat
- 6)Of topic
- 7)Reports
- 8)Activity
- 9)PB

More may be created in the future.

C)The general congress is the highest organ of the MAC. The congress is organized by the PB. In it, each group and member may present a full report over their activities, demands, complaints e.t.c. In the congress voting power have only MAC members. Mods and friends of the MAC have the right to attend, but have no voting power, only advisory status. In this congress the PB and coordinators are decided once again. The congress may be conducted in the span of several meetings, a week, even a month, depending on the volume of the work needed.

D)The general meeting is twice per month. All MAC members have the right to attend and have voting powers, except the newcomers who need to attend one time before having voting powers. Each subgroup also does a meeting once per week, organized by their coordinator if is need so. A meeting must be reported, and counted as a point and required point if not attended. If the coordinator does not want to for some reason to hold a meeting, they need to report it to the PB. Also in the general meetings we discuss about the recruitment of new MAC members. In this meeting members can also change subgroup if they wish and if the PB has not blocked entrance to any subgroup artificially.

E)The general votings are held upon the decision of the PB to adopt lines, rules, and other things the PB deems necessary to adopt through general vote. MAC members and mods have voting powers in regards to lines specific to the subreddits.

commissioned by MAC and written by: F. U. Kuqe. These statutes were voted by the MAC and thus are in effect till next congress.

Before the closure, 3 addresses were given by MAC members, namely, Kuqe, Posada, Stafa.

ADDRESSES

Comrades, Friends members of the Marxist Anti-Imperialist Collective.

I would like to thank everybody who could for attending the second congress of the collective. I would like to thank the Operational pole for their work in the spreading the message of anti-imperialism and genuine communism and also for their restless work on keeping the organs of Mac in working condition. I would also like to thank the working group for producing the works of anti-imperialism and communism. Finally, I would like to say a thank you for everyone who has done any work for the organisation that was not mandated by their pole.

Now that the thank you storm is done, we can get down to business. After all, since the September of 2021 a lot has changed. The reach of the MAC has significantly increased, giving us more opportunity to spread anti-bourgeoise propaganda but also the responsibility to fulfil that obligation. The membership of MAC has changed, we have gained new members who proved themselves wonderful additions to the organisation and have contributed greatly to our work. However, in the mean time we have also lost some for various reasons, to them I can only say 'May their work be successful elsewhere' and to us 'let us improve our cohesion and learn from each other'.

To quote from an old movie "the international situation is intensifying". Indeed, with the recent conflict in Ukraine we can see the intensification of the conflict between the Imperialist and the national bourgeoisie. We have kept up with the events reasonably well so far but as that conflict is progressing so shall we intensify our propaganda efforts.

The changes made with the creation of the MAC is significant. I can proudly say that we have met the challenging tides of the changes and we have prevailed and continued our work and any obstacle we found, we could overcome. In fact, while we overcame difficulties, we have gained new ideas for the expansion of the organisation. Our primary duty now is to fight any kind of complacency and continue on the road of progress.

Onwards Comrades! Onwards against the Bourgeoise!
Onwards for Internationalism and the proletariat!

KUQE:

Welcome in the second congress of MAC brothers. During the previous congress, i made the following points regarding the tasks of the 1st PB, which i was a member:

1) Outsourcing out of reddit: This entails, making platforms to spread our word more widely. This could include but not limit itself to sites, blogspots, facebook, twitter, instagram, every single space we will be able to share our work

Result: Achieved in part. We have a twitter, we will make a FB and instagram soon, and our site is almost ready.

2) Recruiting at least 5 new members.

Result: done.

3) If all the rest are covered, we need to keep working thought the commissions (Palestine, Russia, e.t.c) and make new ones to better cover the events of the world which arent covered by the big media, left or right.

Result: Not done. We still have issues on getting the WG in track.

4) Get in touch with other groups and if possible, parties.

Result: partially done, thanks to the efforts of Firaas we have some indirect links with some online organizations and publishing houses.

5) Find ways to create a common fund to pay for host server if we make a site e.t.c

Result: not done, but we created a plan for an alternative, Firaas plan e.t.c.

6) Get to 10,000 subscribers in ES, and 5,000 for both AS and AsS

Result: not done. We are close to this number, 9,200 in ES, 3,900 in AS, and 4,200 in AsS.

I said that if not even half would be achieved, the PB would be a failure in my opinion. We achieved half of them either fully or in part, which means this PB was not the best it could be. This is a lesson for both me and Posada (who are again the PB for the next 6 months) that we need to work harder.

I admit for myself neglect due to my work on two projects:

First, my work on the national question where i am developing my theory on nations, nationalism, and the origin and the dialectic of nations. This work is heavy on me, and i havent managed to finish a single book i am writing on the question. I have opened up about 3-4 books on the question, and i will probably link the first 3 into one larger book.

Second, my work regarding my nation, Albania, and the work i have started with Platon Stafa to create our own site. Me and Stafa have been also occupied with tremendous work on a historic analysis of our nation, our language, and the proletarian and national question for our country which we both consider pivotal and inter-linked and inseparable.

Thus, while this is not an excuse by any means for my neglect of the work on the PB, i just wished to explain to the PB why i was neglecting my duties, of course without asking any forgiving or anything.

Now to the current situation. Kokkinos said this in the previous congress:

"We must wage a relentless struggle to once again earn the respect of the imperialized and oppressed nations of the world, as well as generally the various progressive, nationalist-and patriotic-minded people in our countries, and hence put us and the proletariat we represent back into the very important role of being the global holders of the banner of national liberation in the age of still-existing imperialism."

Is this valid or invalid today? Not only it is valid, but it is more valid than what it was when Kokkinos said it. And thus, this is one of the main reason i am pre-occupying myself on the study of the subject. To earn the respect of the nations, we need to know like our palm what it is. To know what it is this way, we need to study it, make a coherent theory, and push lines according to this.

Both parts of my work outside of the PB are directed to this goal. One is in general, the second is in specific (albania).

What does this tells us regarding MAC? In my opinion, we ought to do the following:

1) Either start creating MAC works specific to some nations, i.e put our men to do proletarian nationalist propaganda and expose their capitalists, regarding their countries. We need to find places to post these works, everywhere. Ideally, by leaflets even! Or, help some MAC members set up non-MAC sites of their own in their own languages. We could keep affiliation with MAC officially as long as both parties want. This is also in line with our principles, even the reformed ones. Direction could be given by MAC's PB in case these writers wish so. Everything nonetheless should be one according to approval if our men wish to coordinate anything with MAC, and we arent speaking here about hierarchical relations as long as there is no agreement.

2) We need to open struggles and polemics with parties, organizations, sites, everything. Negative fame is still fame. We can draw in the elements we desire to draw in, but we need to write, write, write and write. We have no right to not be writing. The reason our nations are alive, is because thousands of our proletarians and working masses died to keep it. The least we can do is write. I am sure there are people worth polemicizing over in our nations. How the polemics will be done, is according to the first point.

3) After we finish with the publication of the site, we need to start a magazine, which could have a symbolic price for the readers (or not, we will discuss details when it is to be done). The maximum we could publish it would be weekly, and the minimum once per two months. We need the magazine to be seen more seriously by the people we wish to attract, and our adversaries.

4) Focus on the Working group. Thanks to the efforts by the previous coordinator, Kokkinos, and the current one, Firaas, the OP is running exceptionally. Our problem is now our working group. The problems of the working group are the following:

- a) Understaffed. The working group has currently only 6 people. We need more people. Ideally, till the next congress, at least 3 more members for the WG.
- b) lack of drive to produce. rarely we see more than 2 original articles by the WG members in average.
- c) lack of discipline in the sense of promising to write something and never writing it.

Thus, these are what we need to do for the next 6 months in my opinion.

STAFA:

Dear Comrades! Dear Brothers!

We have gathered here today for the 2nd Congress of MAC. Since the last Congress the world has changed so much that we would need days just to mention what happened these few months! Since the Russian invasion of Ukraine Communists and anti-imperialists have been hunted down their sites, newspapers, organizations have been banned or closed. Yet MAC luckily still stands, but I fear this won't be for long. So, I urge once again the Politburo to make a plan and finish the site. While MAC still stands and our numbers have gone up, these few months were... mediocre, and I think we are all to "blame" for that. Nevertheless, we now have seen our weaknesses and we know what we shall address, one in particular is the response time to world events. The world moves faster than ever before, we need to adapt and write articles faster, I understand that problems existed and I myself caused this delay too but we need to have a faster response time. I am sure that with a good cooperation between the members of the working group and then between the Working group as a whole and the Operational Pole we will achieve great responding times. We are going to witness wicked times and we must defend our righteous banner. The shifts in the world are not completely positive or completely negative, it is our job to propagandise the correct positions and lines in order to make these shifts favourable to our cause. But hey! Not all is negative, I think that the times that we were on the "defensive" side are over, the people of the world now more than ever in the last 30 years see clearly that our opponents are their opponents too, that the West cannot and should not be trusted! We should plan as pessimists, think as optimists and act rationally! And as we say in my lands "the sweet word belongs at the end". So here is the sweet word! Thanks to everyone, every single soul that makes this group and project work! I truly believe that you did your best if we consider the issues we faced as a collective first and as individuals secondly. I have reached the same conclusion as the last congress: We have a lot of work Infront of us, that shouldn't "scare" us but it should strengthen us! It means that changes happen and work needs to be done, what would be scary is if we wouldn't be able to do any work! In the last Congress we talked about how we are entering a new era of our world, in this Congress, we have already entered it. I won't take up more your valuable time, let's get to work comrades and brothers!

Long live the Revolution!

The congress took place in 10/4/2022, from 17 UTC till 19 UTC.
